STEP (Landonline Rebuild) Update

The STEP Cadastral Survey Working Group convened in Wellington on 24th February to inspect progress on the development of the new survey interface. The developers have made excellent progress, and it was great to see some of the feedback from earlier 'Show and Tell' events.

LINZ also tabled a roadmap of the planned rollout of STEP. Highlights of this are:

- Foundational work is now well advanced, with the search product already rolled out to user and the general public, and the survey and title systems making great advances
- The aim is for some of the survey workflow to be available to users by the end of 2021. Users would still have to use legacy Landonline for some aspects such as plan generation.
- The migration of the database is scheduled for February or March 2022
- Legacy Landonline will be frozen (ie no further enhancements other than those necessary for security or stability reasons) at the end of 2021.
